

SMITH

Locked Up In County Jail On Old Charge

And Is Sent To The Columbus Workhouse

For Bootlegging In This City Last Summer

John Smith, who was arrested in this city two months ago on the charge of bootlegging and who entered a plea of guilty to the charge when arraigned for hearing before Mayor Mitchell, was again arrested on Sunday morning by the local officers and lodged in the county jail.

When Smith pleaded guilty to the charge of unlawful selling of intoxicating liquors some time ago, he was given a fine of $500 and costs, but the fine was suspended by the mayor providing that Smith leave the city and not return at any time during the present administration of the mayor. The conditions were accepted and Smith left the city. On Sunday, he was discovered to be in the city and was arrested and locked up. He was taken to Columbus Monday noon and was placed in the Columbus work house where he will stay long enough to work out the fine and costs which he is unable to pay.

"ROUNDERS"

Selze Pittsburg Preacher's Auto For "Joy Ride"

Pittsburg, Penn., Oct. 31—Rev. Dr. Maitland Alexander, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, the most fashionable of the denomination in the city, was instructing his Bible class in the big stone edifice last night while a band of young "tenderloin" rounders were speeding through the under world of the city in the big touring car of the minister.

Dr. Alexander left his car in the street between the Duquesne Club and the church, and it was stolen, as over a dozen of other costly machines have been stolen in the last few weeks. The machine was seen passing through the lower part of the city, but it has not been recovered.

The stolen cars are invariably found deserted in some secluded side street, and in very few instances are any parts of value missing.

MADE GOOD

Has A Former Knox Co. Man In New York

Now At The Head Of A Large Concern

Was Born And Raised At Danville, O.

The New York letter in the Cincinnati Enquirer on Sunday contained the following article concerning a Knox county, Ohio, man who has "made good" in New York City:

Colonel Wilson W. Butler, a high-up official of the Canadian Car and Foundry Company of Montreal, has been in New York this week conferring with railroad magnates of every section. This statement does not mean so much to Ohio readers of the Enquirer until a little story of a young man's rise in the world is told. Colonel Butler was a country boy in Danville, Knox county, Ohio, near Mt. Vernon, when less than 30 years ago he yearned to know more of the world away from the banks of the Kokosing. He had a short service as clerk in a country store and then went with the Z. L. White store, in Delaware. There he met young Sam Glover, nephew of a leading merchant. They talked it over, as twenty-year-old lads will, and decided to make their way in Cincinnati. They had no capital and never had been in so large a city, where they arrived in 1882 and put up at the old Indiana House. Both secured employment quickly at $30 a month. Butler was in Shillito's, while Glover yearned for electrical circles. Both kept going up steadily and today, while Glover has made a place for himself in Ohio, his chum, Butler, has done remarkably well in railroad and manufacturing circles, putting himself in the millionaire circles with a rapidity that has startled his old-time Delaware comrades. Even so, Colonel Butler's success has not spoiled him and he remains as calm and considerate as when he was behind the counter in Olive Green or at Shillito's.

TAMPERED

With Grave And Both Die Suddenly

Bristol, Tenn. Oct. 31—Curious as to what had become of the body of Dr. Teed, who announced before his death a year ago that he would rise from his tomb and become the Messiah of the Koreshan, two members of the cult, according to Henry D. Silverfield, attempted to unseal the tomb, but before this was accomplished both were deprived of their reason, and died before they could be removed to an asylum.

Silverfield is prominent in the Koreshan colony in Estero, Fla. He said today that Dr. Teed had not yet risen, but that members of the cult were confident he would come forth as their Messiah in due time.

The Bristol Koreshan colony was abandoned shortly after Dr. Teed's death.

KENYON

Overwhelmingly Defeated By Wooster

In That City On Saturday Afternoon

Football Scores All Over Toe Country

Wooster, O., Oct. 31—Wooster won her first game of the season Saturday by defeating Kenyon 21 to 0. The Wooster boys went into the game like gladiators, and the touted Kenyon ginger and aggressiveness was not very much in evidence. Both teams were very light and about equal in weight. Elder kicked a perfect field goal from the 30-yard line after five minutes of play. Wooster opened up and, by a series of forward passes from K. Johnson to Cameron and a recovered onside kick got her first touchdown, making the score at the end of the first half 9 to 0.

In the second half McSweeney intercepted a forward pass and got away for a 75-yard run and a touchdown, making the score 15 to 0. After the next kickoff Mackintosh recovered a punt and ran 45 yards for a touchdown, making the final count 21 to 0.

Wooster used a variety of tricks and passes that had Kenyon guessing all the time. The tackling of Mackintosh was a feature of the game. While McSweeney was the particular star, Hackett, Johnson, Elder and White and the entire line were right there every minute. Reinheimer was the star for Kenyon.

POSTOFFICE

Department Urging Automobiles For Mails

Washington, Oct. 31—Expedition of the mails by the extension of the use of automobiles in the postal service is being advocated by the postoffice department. Heavy automobile express wagons are being substituted for the old type horse-drawn wagons used in transporting the mails between railway stations and postoffices and their branches. The postmaster general today signed contracts for four additional automobiles to be used in the mail collection service at Cleveland and for three additional automobiles to be similarly used at Indianapolis.

The motorcycle is being extensively used in the transportation of mails in suburban towns where residences are widely scattered and long distances have to be traversed rapidly in order to insure prompt service.

One of the plans for the re-organization of the rural delivery service, is the substitution of light automobiles for horse carts, permitting delivery and collection on several routes in the same time it now takes to traverse one and resulting in more effective and less costly service.

ELECTRIC

Battery Used At Bucyrus To Start A Horse

Bucyrus, Ohio, Oct. 31—Samuel Crilla has bally horse which the average man would call a misfortune. No so with Sam. Mr. Crilla says he feels quite like an automobilist when he starts for a drive in that all that he has to do is to pour a little gasoline on the cushions of his buggy to furnish the amell, and like the automobilist he can usually figure on walking back.

The bally horse is so bad that it isn't used except on extraordinary occasions. Sam Jr., doesn't share his father's contented spirit, while sitting in the buggy for hours waiting for the horse to get busy again, and he isn't like his mother, who always takes her knitting along when she starts to drive behind "Old Bally."

So he has secured a storage battery and connected it up under the buggy seat. When the old horse balks now it's easy to complete the circuit and touch the nag with the wire. The horse "starts on the spark" every time and starts on "high speed" at that.

STRICKEN

Household And Sadness Prevails In This Home

Washington C. H., Oct. 31—At Atlanta, Pickaway County, near here, there is a stricken household and the sadness of that home cannot be fully appreciated except by persons who have passed through similar experiences.

Several weeks ago the three daughters of C. C. Morris, who runs a general store in the village, were stricken with typhoid fever. They were Bertha, Gertrude and Margaret, and they thought much of one another. They were in different rooms, and each took the greatest interest in the welfare of the others, asking the nurses frequently how the others were getting along. About two weeks ago Bertha, the oldest girl, died, and fearing that it might kill the others to hear of the death of their sister, the fact of the death was kept from the sick ones, and the body was taken to a neighbor's house and the funeral held at the church. When asked by the other sister how Bertha was they were told that she had been taken to their grandma's to be taken care of, and they never knew that she was dead.

Now another chapter is added to the story. Night before last Gertrude died and was buried yesterday by the side of her sister. The news is kept a secret from Margaret, the youngest one, who lies in a critical condition, as it is feared the shock would be too great for her to bear. The task that the family and nurses have had to endure in keeping the secret since the death of Bertha has been almost unendurable, as the sick ones have asked frequently how the others were and they have urged the nurses not to forget to give them their medicine. Gertrude was laid away never knowing that Bertha was dead.

NEWARK MAN RE-ARRESTED AT DOOR OF THE PEN

(Newark Advocate)

When James Walter Steepleton stepped from the door of the Ohio penitentiary at Columbus at 6:30 o'clock Friday morning after having served a two-year term for criminal assault, he was met by Sheriff George C. Smitley and re-arrested and taken back to Zanesville to face indictments for bigamy and perjury, growing out of his marriage here on June 10th, 1908, to Miss Mina Elben of Utica, Ohio.

Steepleton was indicted by the Muskingum county grand jury in April, 1909. He was at that time serving the sentence for criminal assault from Licking county which terminated Friday morning. The Elben girl's father from Utica lodged the information against Steepleton for the local grand jury. The penitentiary authorities were notified that he was wanted at the expiration of his sentence.

According to information in the hands of the prosecuting attorney Steepleton secured a marriage license in the Muskingum probate court to marry Miss Elben who was then but 15 years old. He made oath on that occasion that the girl was a resident of Muskingum county and that the girl was eighteen years of age. For this reason he was indicted for perjury.

The record of the marriage license office at Sistersville, W. Va., shows that he was married on August 31, 1901, to Bertha May Lightner by Rev. H. B. Bowden. At the time of the grand jury investigation here this woman was living at Empire, O., and was brought here and testified against her husband and Miss Elben, or Mrs. Steepleton No. 2, was also a witness on the occasion.

It seems that Steepleton was living in Newark at the time of the second marriage and that he attempted to secure the marriage license here but was refused. He then went to Zanesville, and secured the necessary paper. Steepleton pleaded guilty to the charge of criminal assault in the Licking county court and was sentenced to two years in the pen.

Conviction for perjury carries a penalty of from three to ten years in the penitentiary. Bigamy is punishable by imprisonment of from one to seven years.

MOTHER

Faints With Babe In Arm And Both Are Burned

Spencer, N. C., Oct. 31—When Mrs. Henry Morris, wife of a prominent farmer near Salisbury, N. C., suffered a fainting spell, she fell forward into the open fireplace, and the husband returning home after several hours' absence found her burned to a crisp and nearly dead, while their one-year-old child was found lying in the grate with head and one arm burned off.

The woman was found on the bed with all the clothing burned from her body and her flesh badly seared. She never regained consciousness, but as she was subject to the fainting spells, this was presumed to be the cause.

The rest of the family were away from the house at the time and there were no neighboring houses near enough to have heard any screams made by the child. The husband is prostrated by the shock.

FIRE

Consumed A Pigeon House Saturday Evening

And Hundreds Of Pigeons Burned To Death

The Structure Was Probably Set On Fire

A very unfortunate fire occurred just north of the city on Saturday evening, when the pigeon house, belonging to Mr. Frank McCormick of this city, was burned with all of its contents. The house was situated near the deep cut just east of the B. & O. tracks and it is supposed that some "hobo" sought lodging in the building and accidentally set fire to the structure in some manner. The most unfortunate part of the fire was the fact that several hundred pairs of pigeons were burned to death as the flames obstructed the openings through which they could escape. The person, or persons, who set the building on fire, are not known.

OBITUARY

Miss Rachael Phillips
Miss Rachael Phillips died at the state hospital in Columbus on Saturday night at ten o'clock after an extended illness caused by a stroke of paralysis. She was about fifty years of age at the time of her death and is survived by one sister, Mrs. Laura Miller of Centerburg. The remains were taken to the home of Mrs. Miller in Centerburg, where the funeral occurred at 12 o'clock Monday, Rev. Mott of Centerburg officiating. Interment in the Centerburg cemetery.

Coat Event

Is Marked by a Great Variety of Styles

This week we offer you many different styles from which you may choose your new fall coat.

There is a full size range in all the new colors which are approved by Paris.

These beautifully tailored coats are of the high quality that we feel proud to offer to our most particular customers.

All are of pure wool fabrics—giving the greatest warmth with the least weight.

The linings are fine soft peau de cygne or satin. If, by any chance, they should wear out before the end of two seasons, we will replace them for the asking.

Ours is the only store in Knox county where you can buy Wooltex garments.

You've seen the Wooltex advertisements in the leading fashion papers with the pictures of the Wooltex coats and suits.

Come to the store that sells Wooltex and see the garments themselves. You'll find a style to suit your figure.

All Wooltex garments are finished with as much care as is given to custom-made garments. Many of the styles are inspired by French creations. They are adapted by the Wooltex designers to the needs of American women.
